

Lconnect

Your world of connectivity

Lconnect offers a broad range of innovative products and services that cover every aspect of connected aviation. We are the perfect partner when it comes to upgrading your commercial or private fleet. Our passion and experience are at your service.

The world of aviation is facing a major evolutionary step: On-board connectivity provides opportunities that reach far beyond seamless online access in the air and mere passenger entertainment. Lufthansa Technik regards a connected fleet as an integrated concept that embeds broadband capabilities into every aspect of operation – from passengers to cabin crew, from cockpit and flight operations to maintenance. Therefore, we are able to provide a tailored solution for every customer and partner, including all steps required prior, during and after an installation.

Benefits

Fast installation of large fleets or single A/C; worldwide

Minimum aircraft downtime

Simultaneous installation of up to 10A/C

Flexible installation during A/C checks or special layovers

Strong network and partnerships

Longtime experience and know-how

Certification expertise

Airline-proven; fast logistics

Smart design with simple & flexible integration

Tailored solutions for every customer and A/C type

Lufthansa Technik

High time to connect your fleet

Worldwide connected commercial aircraft

2003

First broadband solution by Lufthansa Technik

2017

Lufthansa Technik connects currently 20 aircraft per month

2023

Up to 80 aircraft are getting connected per month by Lufthansa Technik

Connectivity is a “must-have”

The vast majority of passengers prefer an airline that offers in-flight internet access. In-flight Wi-Fi availability is clearly more important than mere in-flight entertainment.

Have you secured your slot already?

Timing is everything in a dynamically growing market with very limited installation capacities. An estimated future demand for 1,200 connectivity retrofits per year – that’s actually 20 lines operating in parallel.

All elements connected

We provide you with a full range of products and services – in the air or on the ground.

Consulting and business model solutions

Project and fleet layover management

Engineering and certification

Software and hardware

Material kitting and logistics

Fleet and single aircraft installation

In-service support and material pooling

Contact

Lufthansa Technik AG
Weg beim Jaeger 193 | 22335 Hamburg | Germany marketing@lht.dlh.de

lufthansa-technik.com

Follow us:

